GENERAL NEWS.

Cordial Californians.

ICO, August 21.—Grand Commander . Steele, of California, was interviewed y and said that California intended to Knights a warm reception in 1883, m as long as they would stay and send me so happy that they would want to ain. The parade would be 20,000 to Knights instead of 10,000 to 12,000. would be fine weather, yacht excursions, atres, ample and liberal hospitality. As they got home they would contract with keepers for all the transient rooms I probably have at that time. These ill be held by the committee in charge man living west of the Sierra Nevadas one of them for love or money. They kept first exclusively for people from those from Maine, Massachusetts and stant points. Those that are nearer n arrange their own accommodations, an easily do at any time. The hotels ured, will charge regular rates and Francisco can't afford to do anything there will be no camp. We had of that here.

FOREIGN.

The Irish Question in England.

LONDON, August 21. In London the chief subjects of public interest for the week have been provided by Ireland. Religious riots, Agrarian outrages, collisions between Catholic and Protestants, and the Fenian movement constitute the chief items. Fenianism and Agrarianism are two sources of mischief which are more steadily disappearing and they are no longer in conflict. At one time the Land Agitators and the Fenians were at variance but it is now tacitly admitted that there is room for both. Irishmen continue to drill in the early morning. The seizure of the arms on the Juno and the recent discovery of gunpowder in a railway tunnel in Cork disturbed the public mind. Touching the last incident I may mention what is not published elsewhere that more than two barrels of gunpowder were found. The exact number is not stated; but I hear from a railway official that there were eight or ten.

The land agitation has assumed a more demonstrative character. The rejection of the compensation bill seemed to produce little effect but the land league stirred the country by ordering great meetings, the last of which will be held to-morrow. Mr. Forster added fuel to the fire by the foolish use of the word cowardice applied to Mr. Dillon, M. P., which already recoils upon himself. Mr. Dillon is taking a leading part in the land agitation. Singularly enough Mr. Parnell is in Ireland, marvellously quiet and only engaged in recruiting his health in order to participate in the debates on the Irish estimates. The most interesting circumstance connected with Irish matters was the departure of Mr. Forster for Dublin. The government attempted to minimize the importance of the visit but Mr. Forster left here suddenly soon as the Dublin telegrams announced the discovery of the gunpowder at Cork. The chief subject upon which he will inform his colleagues is the expediency of reinforcing the coercion act.

The government is adverse to such a proposal and Forster is not the man to recommend such measures for slight causes. There is undoubtedly a strong impression that after parliament rises and when the rich harvest in Ireland has been garnered the landlords will press for back rent and this may lead to violence throughout the country. Some Irish officials anticipate that it will be impossible to pass the winter without re-imposing the Coercion act. The general feeling of many members of parliament is that there may be a winter session of parliament to consider the state of Ireland and pass coercion bills. The refusal of the Land League to give evidence before the new Irish land commission has damaged that body in the eyes of its English friends, and it is generally felt that a valuable opportunity will be lost if the Irish tenants refuse to submit this case to the commission.

Afghan Affairs.

SIMLA, August 21. General Stuart's headquarters have been established at Jellalabad. All is well with his command and the country quiet. According to information brought by natives General Roberts is on the way to the relief of Candahar, and has passed Ghuzni unopposed. Mahomed Jan and Hashim Khan were hovering on his flank. It is stated that the tribesmen being impatient, Ayoob Khan has resolved to make an assault on Candahar before relief arrives. General Phayre has started to Khojah to arrange for an early advance from the south to succor Candahar.

			278

The various county conventions are requested to elect a chairman of the County Central Committee and a member of the State Central Committee, and report the name and postoffice address of each to the State Convention.

JOHN L. ROUTT, Chairman.
HARRY WARD, Secretary.

"Unwise, unpatriotic and unfortunate." Alas! poor Yorick.

Tough, Slough, Rough, oh pshaw! Hough. That's the name but who is he?

Republicans should not forget that the enemy is divided and that earnest work can secure Colorado by 5,000 majority.

The candidate for treasurer on the democratic state ticket will take the hull while the republican candidate will take the kernel.

Judge Price presided with great dignity over the deliberations of the county convention yesterday. He insisted, however, that some one of the delegates should play a tune on the piano, during the absence of the nominating committee.

The county convention yesterday was a perfectly harmonious gathering. Everything was conducted in a dignified and parliamentary manner and everybody came away satisfied. The eleven gentlemen whom El Paso county will send to represent her at Leadville are men of honor and intelligence. The delegates were instructed to vote as a unit for Pitkin for governor and Matt France for lieutenant governor. The people of El Paso county have confidence in Matt France and know his worth. He has been a most useful citizen and has served his county and his party faithfully. He will go up to the convention with El Paso's solid vote, in which will be expressed the gratitude of her citizens for the sterling services of Matt France.

General gloom pervades the democratic camp. The victory of the Leadville strikers is the death blow to any hopes the democrats may have had of victory. The following from the Denver Times of yesterday shows that there is a falling barometer with prospects of falling weather along the valley of the Platte.

The democratic wigwam presented a sad, but after all a laughable spectacle last evening, around the closed doors of which might have been seen, until late a small collection of party worshipers peering anxiously into the darkness which surrounded the deserted place. The fact was a big ratification meeting had been announced for Friday evening, but it would appear that although democratic enthusiasm should have been at its height the news from Leadville had such a wet towel effect upon the leaders that they could not anticipate the shadow of a rally. Consequently the little band of followers were left to nurse their disappointment as best they could. A few found their way into Judge Welborn's office, where they were refreshed for a short time on legal lore in reference to martial law.

PRINCIPLES, NOT MEN.

Puck is a saucy newspaper with a strong hatred for shams and a way of saying a great many true things in a very bright way. Puck is inclined to be the friend of General Hancock, but it is too honest to disguise its opinions of the party of which General Hancock is now the representative. In a recent copy of Puck, apropos of a cartoon representing a starved democrat sneering at a picture of Dr. Tanner and the idea of a forty days' fast, when the democratic party has fasted twenty years, the editor says: "Here you have the reason why the Democratic party has been forced to undergo this severe regimen. It has deserved nothing better for forty years, and thoughtful men must hesitate even now to place again in power, although, for once in a way, it has come forward with a candidate who is, personally, a worthier man than his opponent. The opponent represents a principle which we can't very well afford to snub, after it has inspired a patriotism that has kept the nation alive and free through her time of trouble. This is all elementary, perhaps, and may savor of ancient history; but it is much more healthy food for the young voter than the subtle refinements of partisan sophistry; or the clamor about ephemeral trifles that makes people forget old and undying truths." Thus Puck is forced by its very honesty to confess that the democratic party has deserved nothing better than it has received and that the republican party represents a principle which inspired a patriotism that has kept the nation alive and free through her time of trouble. The motto which ought to guide an intelligent voter is "Principles, Not Men," and while we do not admit that General Hancock is superior to Senator Garfield, yet taking Puck's view of the matter, for the sake of argument, we do not see how the intelligent and honest voter can give his suffrage to the democrats.

T. B. Peterson & Bros. have in preparation a Sarah Bernhardt edition of the younger Dumas' "Camille," which is promised to give a key to the French actress' conception of her most important role. They have also well under way Henry Greville's new Russian story, "The Trials of Raissa," and the "Black Venus," by Adolphe Belot.

A new edition of Dr. John Doran's work, to be edited by Mr. R. H. Stoddard, will be brought out by Armstrong & Son, of New York. They are, for the most part, reminiscences of a curious and not always chaste character, though written in a very agreeable style.

The industry and zeal of American newspaper publishers are appreciated by Sir Alexander Galt, for he said, at a recent press-dinner in London, that even the provincial newspapers of this country were but little behind London dailies in their quantum of news.

The English newspaper correspondents include several highly successful and brilliant writers. Russell and Forbes are of the foremost, and now Miller, artist and author, is coming to the front, and will lecture next season. "From Plevna to Constantinople" is announced as his theme.

Henry Holt & Co. will publish shortly in their "American Science Series" Professor Bessey's "Botany for Students and General Readers," and Martin's "The Human Body." They will also publish a new edition of Rossiter Johnson's "Famous Single and Fugitive Poems," and Lady Jackson's "Old Paris."

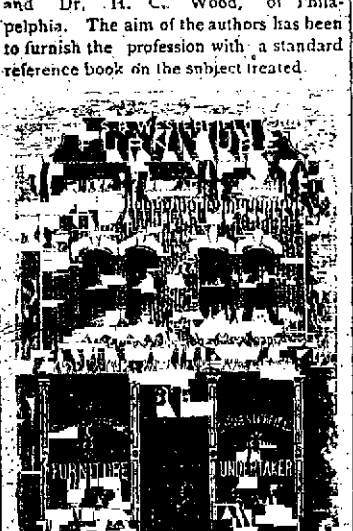

The work which the lamented Dr. Wines left in MS. an exhaustive history of prisons and prison-discipline throughout the civilized world—will be published by subscription for the benefit of his widow, a very aged lady. The sum is $5.32 sent to John Wilson & Son, Cambridge, Mass., will secure to the sender a copy, post-paid.

A recent book on Puritan Nomenclature, reveals many old and quaint names of the centuries just preceding the present. Among them we notice Sin-denes, Fear Not, Much-Mercye, Sorry-for-Sin, No-Merit; and funnier than all these, is Jobrakt-out-of the ashes, a name, "sprinkled" upon a child—poor little sufferer—in 1611.

Harper & Brothers have ready a description of the life and works of "Thomas Moore," by A. J. Symington; "Republican or Democrat? A Retrospect, with its Lessons for the Citizen of 1880;" "Political and Legal Remedies for War," by Professor Sheldon Amos; "College Days," by Rob. Tomes, and "George Bailey," by Oliver Oldboy.

D. Lothrop & Co., have nearly ready an American edition of an English work of great value and attractiveness for all who love literary history. It is entitled "The Englishman and the Scandinavian," and is an elaborate, scholarly, yet popular and profoundly engaging comparison of Anglo-Saxon and Old Norse literature.

Macmillan & Co. have in press for publication in the early fall a book which is likely to be of value to the medical profession and of advantage to the general public. It is entitled "Food for Invalids," and is written by Dr. J. Miller Fothergill, and Dr. H. C. Wood, of Philadelphia. The aim of the authors has been to furnish the profession with a standard reference book on the subject treated.

Mommsen's Burned Books.

I am in a position to give more details ...ncerning the losses of literary treasures ...the conflagration of Mommsen's libra... Of the unedited inscriptions of the ...Corpus Inscriptionum Latinarum," the ...ldenda to volume x. (containing Lower ...aly, West) are to be considered as de... ...royed. Greatly damaged are the "In... ...rumentum Domesticum" of volume ix. ...Lower Italy, East,) the Columbus Mili... ...aria" (Sicily and Sardinia) of volume ..., the "Index Auctorum" of volumes ix. ...nd x., and the Inscriptions of Helvetia ...f volume xiii. On the other hand, I am ...lad to be able to say that volume viii., ...ontaining Africa (begun by Wilmanns ...nd finished by Mommsen), remains in... ...act. The four Jordanes MSS. of the li... ...raries of Heidelburg (Palatinus 921, of ...which, however, collations fortunately ex... ...st), Berlin, Vienna and Breslau are de... ...troyed. The critical text of Jordanes ...which Mommsen had prepared for publi... ...cation in the Auctores Antiquissimi of ...the Monumenta of Germanic is saved, as ...also the preface and account of the MSS. ...used by the editor. This standard edi... ...tion of Jordanes will be some consolation ...for the destruction of the MSS. Not a ...single book of Mommsen's own library ...escaped the flames. I am told that his ...library was insured for 14,000 marks only. As to MSS said to belong to the Vatican nothing is as yet certain. It would indeed be the first instance of the Vatican authorities allowing books to go out of the library. There is the same uncertainty respecting the Cambridge MS., which I am told now belongs to Trinity College. More lamentable than all those losses of books and MSS. is the destruction of Mommsen's own Collectanea and works still in MS., among those, so far as my information goes, was Mommsen's MS. of the history of the Empire, of which nearly three volumes were ready. I may mention also, as a curious circumstance, that Mommsen on the very morning of the fatal day the (11th of July) was on the point of sending back all the MSS. which he had no longer occasion to use. This catastrophe, I hope, will be a warning to libraries not to lend out their MSS. except for use within the walls of other libraries. The Bodleian, for instance, which is very liberal in sending MSS. abroad, does it under the above mentioned condition. Some other libraries, however (Leyden, for instance), are certainly too liberal when they intrust their MSS., not to an ambassador's courier, but to the officials of a parcels office. It would not be a bad idea to induce libraries to have some of their important MSS. photographed for the disposal of other libraries, and thus secure the text of a rare book from utter destruction.

The Genius of Scott.

In novel writing there are many things he has done well which other men have done better, but no one maker of fiction has combined so many rare qualities as he. There are always plenty of men cleverer than he, but he has no rival in a sort of majestic abundance of power. In fact, his prose is epic. For that sort of composition there is no need of precise and superfluous detail; what is required is a sort of grandeur and massive strength, such as Scott alone has possessed in modern times. The form that he chose, in accordance with the taste of the day,—for to sit down to compose an epic poem would have been like sacrificing a bull to Jupiter,— is one that other dexterous craftsmen have worked in a more intricate fashion; so that his novels bear the same relation to modern stories that one of Nelson's seventy-two gun frigates bears to a mastless steel clad ram. Hence it is that some people are inclined to look upon him as old fashioned; but there are certain things that never go out of fashion, even if they undergo seasons of neglect, or even if they are weighed down by acknowledged deficiencies. It is easy to learn that the Middle Ages were something very different from what Scott thought them to be, and that there is inexactness in his accounts of the crusades and the crusaders, but it will be a long time before the completest collection of details will bring before us those remote times with anything like the vividness of Scott's portrayal. The siege of Troy was doubtless something very unlike Homer's account of it, but what Hector and Helen, and Achilles have done for Homer, Scott's character will do to keep his fame fresh when all the stucco and paste of his ornamentation have fallen away.

Scott, it must be remembered, does not belong to readers of English alone. He and Byron are the only English writers of this century—and Shakespeare is the only other—whose fame has spread over the whole of Europe; and Scott's influence over his contemporaries is really beyond estimation.

The invention of English writers has gone back to its customary channels, those of domestic incident and inartistic detail, but readers still possess the faculty of imagination, and those who care more for the free air of romance than for narrow precision still return to him as the last purely imaginative writer of English fiction.—[September Atlantic.

E. P. STEPHENSON,
Manager, "GAZETTE."

ABE ROBERTS,
Manager, "MOUNTAINEER."

The Denver excursion arrived here about 10:30 yesterday morning and returned at 5 p. m. It was comparatively well patronized.

Quite a large party of guests from the Cliff house attended Plunkett's rendition of Ten nights in a Bar Room, at Court House Hall last evening.

Turney Bros.' new advertisement in this morning's GAZETTE informs you that they have the largest and most complete stock of jewelry in Colorado Springs.

Messrs. Jenks and Baldwin, the San Francisco artists have some fine paintings of bears. Citizens displayed in their studio. They have also upon the easel a full life size painting of Ex Governor John L. Routt which is nearly completed.

The New York Daily American Exchange in commenting on an advance of 4½ per cent. in the stock of the Colorado Coal and Iron company, which closed on the 14th at 25½, says that probably this company, which is largely controlled by Mr. Jay Gould, will eventually be able to supply Mr. Gould's new company for constructing railroads, etc., the American Railway Improvement company with iron for any western lines the latter may contract to build, manufactured in Colorado, at a saving of transportation from the east.

Colonel Kittridge of Four Mile, an extensive ranch owner in that section of the state, informs us that the season in South Park has been an unusually dry one, and that both the hay and grain harvest will be very small in comparison with that of last year. Mr. Kittridge will only realize about one hundred tons of hay this year from what is considered one of the most valuable and productive hay ranches in the park. His grain crop has proved to be an entire failure whereas last year he secured about 500 bushels of grain.

Leadville seems to be the principal point of attraction for all excursions just at present. We understand that one of the cheapest excursions of the season will start from here for Leadville on Tuesday, August 31st, returning on Thursday, September 2d. The train will leave here at eight a. m., thus giving the excursionists two nights and a full day in the carbonate camp. A reclining chair car will be attached to the train for the convenience of those who may desire to use it. Tickets for the round trip have been placed on sale at the price of $11 children half price. They can be purchased at E. P. Howbert's, Dan Durkee's, Sagendorf & Taylor's and Tribe & Jefferay's. This will probably be the last excursion to Leadville this season.

We find the following in the Leadville Chronicle of last Friday: "As we intimated in another portion of this column, the management of the Robert E. Lee changes to day by the voluntary resignation of Mr. J. F. Loomis, the superintendent. The Leadville mining interest will lose in him one of the most accomplished, upright, and successful managers it ever had. Mr. Loomis has been employed in important positions of trust in this camp for over two years, one of which was spent in the Robert E. Lee as superintendent. Our readers are aware how assiduous and successful he has been in this position, and to what a high point of prosperity he brought the mine under his charge. We are safe in saying that the whole community wishes him God speed in whatever he may undertake after he severs his connection with the Robert E. Lee."

Ten Nights in a Bar Room.

The production of Ten Nights in a Bar Room, by the Plunketts at Court House Hall last night was greeted by a full house. The play, although an old one, was placed upon the stage in a very efficient manner and the cast as a whole was very capably filled. Miss Susie Guernsey appeared as Mary Morgan. Her song of "Father come home" and the touching appeals to her drunken father, showed evidences of considerable dramatic ability. She sustained the part assigned her throughout with entire satisfaction to all. Carrie Plunkett as "Mehitable" could not be surpassed, and every time she appeared upon the stage she was greeted with rounds of applause. Her song preceding the last act was the hit of the evening. "Simon Slade," the landlord, was assumed by J. S. Overton, and we doubt whether this character could have been better filled. Charles Theadore was as funny as ever in his personification of "Sample Swichel" and he kept the house in a continual roar of laughter. The character of "Joe Morgan," the drunkard, was ably sustained by F. B. Ferris. Next Monday evening the company will appear in "The Two Orphans."

Crested Butte.

We have been shown a letter received by one of our citizens from a prominent citizen of Crested Butte, dated August 12, 1880, from which we are allowed to make the following extract. "Dr. Bell, representing the D. & R. G. railway parties, has made large purchases of coal lands here, aggregating over 640 acres, and Judge Grant, proprietor of the Grant Smelters at Leadville, nine in number, has visited the town and bought for himself and associates 160 acres of coal lands. He told me, after testing the coal for coke, that it was unquestionably the finest coking coal in the world—superior even to the famous Connelsville coal, and vastly better for all purposes than the Trinidad or any other Colorado coal. He is perhaps the highest practical authority on that subject in the United States."

More visitors have registered at the Peak during the month of August than was ever before known. It is expected that fully as many will visit it during the month of September as in the estimation of the signal service officer it is by far the most favorable month in the year to accomplish the ascent. The rains which are of a daily occurrence during July and August prevent many from making the attempt.

Mr. E. C. Johnson informs you through the advertising columns of the GAZETTE that there will be an excursion to Leadville from Colorado Springs, on Thursday, August the 26th. The train starts from Denver about 8 o'clock and probably arrive here about eleven. The fare for the round trip has been placed at the exceedingly small sum of $15 and tickets can be procured at the train on its arrival here.

Messrs. S. R. Ainslie and H. B. Eccles, of the Denver and Rio Grande, came down from Denver on the Leadville express last night and are at the Beebee.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Robinson, of Providence, R. I., parents of Mr. Gill Robinson of this city, arrived on yesterday morning's express from Denver. They have apartments at the Springs hotel.

Among the Cliff house arrivals we notice R. F. Seabury, Jr., W. W. Dunn, Charles C. Miles and wife, Mrs. P. B. Miles, and the Misses Lou Minor and Gussie Pruschwitz, of Peoria, Illinois.

Mr. F. B. Lee, traveling salesman for Rickard & Co., the well known furnishing goods dealers of Denver, has been spending a few days with his many friends in this city. He is one of the oldest and most popular traveling men in Colorado,

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

Delegates to the State Convention Chosen and Instructed for Pitkin and France.

The convention of the republicans of El Paso county met yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in Court House Hall. The meeting was called to order by Mr. B. F. Crowell, chairman of the county central committee, who stated that the object of the convention was to elect delegates to the state republican convention which meets in Leadville on the 26th inst. He then suggested that a chairman be chosen. Judge Price was nominated and elected chairman of the convention. Mr. Stanley Wood, of the GAZETTE, was elected secretary.

On motion the chair was instructed to appoint a committee of three on credentials. The committee was made up as follows: Alfred Cree, Judge Stewart, and P. C. Castle. The committee after examining the credentials of delegates reported the following named gentlemen as entitled to seats in the convention:

Second precinct: W. E. Meek, Henry Shack.

B F Crowell,	C E Stubbs,
E S Joslyn,	Giles Crissey,

A H Corman,	John Lennox,
L E Sherman,	John Campbell,
E J Eaton,	C T Barton.

Seventh precinct: W. W. Perkins, W. Hutchins.

Eleventh precinct: Alfred Cree, C. W. Barker, Isaac Davis.

Twelfth precinct: George Howard, C. W. Kitteridge.

After the report of the committee had been adopted Mr. B. F. Crowell moved that as his term of office as chairman of the central committee had expired a new chairman be elected. The motion was carried after some discussion and Sheriff W. A. Smith was elected to the position.

On motion of Mr. L. E. Sherman Mr. B. F. Crowell was chosen as a member of the state central committee.

It was then moved that a committee of three be appointed by the chair to select eleven names to be presented to the convention as those of candidates for delegates to the state convention. The motion was then carried and the chair appointed Messrs. B. F. Crowell, Alfred Cree and E. J. Eaton as said committee. The committee returned and after some deliberation presented the following list of names;

A. Sagendorf,	C. W. Kittridge,
J. R. Kennedy,	W. A. Smith,

The list was approved by the convention and the gentlemen whose names appeared upon it were declared delegates to the state convention.

Resolved, That the delegation to the state convention be instructed to represent the county of El Paso in the convention to be held for the nomination of Judge for the Fourth Judicial District of Colorado.

These resolutions were adopted unanimously and amid great applause.

There being no other business to transact, the convention adjourned.

Receiver Ellsworth's Report.

We learn from the Denver Tribune that the final accounts, books, vouches and balances have been submitted to the United States court by Receiver L. C. Ellsworth of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad. In commenting upon this the Tribune says: "The nine months' administration of Colonel Ellsworth has been a remarkably successful one. When he took charge of the road the business was demoralized, the service impaired and the property generally in a very poor condition. He organized anew, put the operative department in order and inaugurated what may safely be said to have been the first substantial prosperity the road had experienced a prosperity which has steadily grown until to-day the earnings of the road increase by thousands each succeeding month. He retires from the control with the praise of the court, the respect and gratitude of the contending companies, and the confidence of the public. In the work he has performed, Colonel Ellsworth has been greatly assisted by Traffic Manager Ainslie and General Freight Agent Eccles, both gentlemen of pronounced ability and integrity, to whom the highest compliment was paid when they were retained in their respective positions by the old company when it again assumed control. Mr. Herman Silver has, as auditor and receiver, received and disbursed two millions of dollars, and it is sufficient to say that this vast sum has been entirely accounted for. The books of the auditor's office have been under the personal supervision of Mr. W. R. Robinson as chief clerk, a gentleman who bears and is entitled to the reputation of being the finest railroad accountant in the country. It is seldom the privilege of a newspaper to refer to the administration of a railroad under direction of the courts with so much satisfaction as it affords the Tribune to do in this case."

Silver Cliff Mining Notes.

We copy the following interesting mining notes from the Silver Cliff Prospect: "At the Grey Eagle we found them timbering up the shaft, and not taking out ore to any extent. They now have ten tons on the dump, and can take out twenty tons per day. The character of the ore is carbonates and chlorides, and runs on an average 50 ounces in silver per ton. The largest assay from this mine was $3,300 in silver and gold—$3,100 in silver and $200 in gold. In sinking the shaft six feet and running two drifts, one east and one west the one west 16 feet and the east one 7 feet 100 tons of fine ore were taken out. The average width of the vein is four to five feet. The company are having an office erected with an assay office attached.

"The Song Bird has just finished repairing its shaft, and will soon erect a whim and commence further sinking of the shaft, which is now down 100 feet. Samples taken at a depth of 50 feet, in a drift six feet east, ran from 62 to 243 ounces in silver and one ounce in gold. The Song Bird company have put up a boarding house sufficiently large to accommodate 30 or 40 men.

"The J. A. White, located north of town, has a shaft down fifty-four feet, and is drifting on the vein, which is two feet in width. The ore now being taken out runs seventy-five ounces in silver. A shaft being sunk west of the main shaft, now down twelve feet, has good indications; with a vein a foot in width. The J. A. White is the property of our fellow-townsman, H. W. Foss.

"The Diadem, the property of a Colorado Springs company, now down 110 feet, will erect hoisting works soon. The character of the ore is galena, which runs well. Parties will soon arrive here to arrange for the thorough development of this mine.

"We noticed work being done on many other minor and less important properties, and on every hand a spirit of activity was visible."

Mount Bross Mines.

Colorado Springs people are largely interested in Mount Bross mines and from all that we can learn of that mining district its future is especially bright. We copy the following from the Fairplay Flume; "A cave on the Colorado Springs mine, last week, brought down about forty tons of dirt and rock damaging the blacksmith shop on the property to the extent of fifty dollars.

"It is rumored that work on the Sweet Home group of mines is to be resumed shortly.

"The Oneida Chief, one of the best claims in Buckskin, is being worked again under the direction of its owner, E. Y. Harris. The tunnel now in sixty feet is being driven further into the hill and another one has been started below the old workings.

"Some good looking ore is being taken from the Edinburgh belonging to the Colorado Springs group on Mount Bross. Assays from the outcroppings have returned twenty-eight and one half ounces in silver and one and three-fourth ounces in gold.

Some very good looking ore from the Lasalle mine is being brought to the works for treatment.

Judge Wilbur F. Stone, of the supreme bench, is expected in Alma shortly to look after his interests in Buckskin gulch.

The Imperial Gold and Silver Mining company, of which John W. Knox, of Denver, is president, are preparing for extensive work on their property, in Mosquito near the Old Orphan Boy. The company own six claims in the neighborhood, the Imperial being the principal one. Henry Clements is indentified with the company.

Another report of a rich strike at the head of Buckskin was brought into Alma to-day. This time the discovery was made on a new location in London flat above the Keystone, Lone Star, Champaign and other well known properties. An assay of 860 ounces in silver is reported to have been obtained from the ore near the surface. The property belongs to Leadville parties.

Mr. E. P. Howbert left for Denver on the owl train yesterday morning.
